

THE HAZEN-STANLEY CASE.

The decision in the case of Hazen and Stanley rests with General Sherman. It is for him to say whether the finding of the court-martial shall be approved or not, and whether the court shall be reversed. The sentence of the court is understood to be simply a general censure of Stanley, and it is thought the General will assent to the matter.

GREENBACKERS.

A mass-meeting of Greenbackers, in New York City, last Thursday evening, adopted resolutions congratulating the framers of the new constitution for California upon their victory, and resolving to do for New York what they had done for the Pacific State—give it a constitution as radical as the one so recently adopted. Several addresses were made by members of trades unions.

RAILROAD WAR.

The Chicago Tribune informs us that there is no immediate prospect of bringing to an end the bitter animosity existing on between the railroads leading from Chicago to the Atlantic coast. Freight tariffs have been whittled down to 12 cents on grain to New York, and it is alleged that shipments for as low as 10 cents have been made. Passenger rates have suffered in sympathy, and human beings can travel relatively almost as cheap as hogs and cattle. With Vanderbilt and Tom Scott both in Europe, there is little likelihood that a durable truce can be patched up at present.

SUPPRESSING THE TRUTH.

The Leavenworth papers have found, by an examination of the U. S. Collector's books, that during the year 1878, the Leavenworth cigar manufacturers paid for revenue on cigars manufactured, $2,917. The largest firm paid $1,582.90—the second, $845.89, and the third $90.80—Atlantic Cigarette Co. The Collector neglects to state that the cigar factories of Leavenworth paid during the same time more than EIGHT TIMES as much as those of Atchison. It suppresses one half the statement, and declines to tell the whole truth. It hoisted a few days ago that Atchison paid for cigars less than Leavenworth, and it declared that Atchison was always willing to show. But when the facts are presented Atchison declines to show up. She don't want anything to do with facts. Blowing is her fort, and she can always be "counted in" on that.

A SAD PICTURE.

A correspondent writes that Mrs. Freeman, the mother of little Edith, who was killed by her father under a religious delusion, is dying of a broken heart. She is a "her bloodless lips, and her inability to eat or sleep, give full evidence of the anguish that is preying upon her. She weeps and moans day and night. She is confined in an upper cell, and has not, during the two weeks of her confinement, eaten the ordinary quantity of food. She has not taken a single meal. She tries to eat, believing it to make an effort to end her life, but when the fatal Sunday came around and the child that she loved did not rise as was promised, she gave way entirely. The pleasant expression which marked her features during the trial forebode her when that day passed, and gave place to sorrow which seems to be burning deep and deeper into her very soul. History has recorded no sadder picture of fanaticism than this.

IMPORTANT RELIGIOUS CRY.

The Great Roman Catholic Cathedral, in New York, which has been so many years in course of construction, and which is supposed to surpass in size and magnificence any other structure of the kind in the United States, is to be dedicated with imposing ceremonies today. Cardinal McCloskey will lead in the service, assisted by archbishops and bishops from New York and other States, and there will be a procession of two hundred priests, acolytes and chanters passing into the cathedral and down the center aisle, accompanied by appropriate music. The service will be held at 10 o'clock, and will last for one hour. The cathedral is 334 feet in length, the transept 140 feet, the width of the nave 96 feet, including the aisles, or 48 feet from pillar to pillar, giving 24 feet to each aisle; the height of the nave 108 feet and of the aisles 54 feet. The elevator is 138 feet in height. The cost of the building, the cost of the altar, and the cost of the interior spaces for ten more. The structure has 700 windows.

OUR MANUFACTURING INTERESTS.

Owing to the extra demand for yesterday morning's paper containing a comparison of the manufacturing interests of Leavenworth and Atchison in the line of cigars, we publish this article again this morning. We also give elsewhere in this issue the official figures, taken from the Collector's books, of the business of the two towns in the manufacture of beer. Beer and cigars are two of the articles which the Atchison Champion declared a few days ago were manufactured in greater quantities in Atchison than in Leavenworth.

THE UNITED STATES COLLECTOR'S BOOKS SHOW EXACTLY HOW MUCH IS DONE IN EACH TOWN, AND THEY SHOW THAT THE BUSINESS OF THE TWO TOWNS, IN THESE LINES, COMPARES AS FOLLOWS:

Leavenworth manufactures MORE THAN THREE TIMES as much beer as Atchison.

Leavenworth manufactures EIGHT TIMES AS MANY CIGARS AS ATCHISON.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

DAMAGED BAGS.

The city of Rochester is being sued for $1,000 damages for the destruction, by order of the Board of Health, of rags supposed to be infected with the small pox.

THE DWIGHT CASE AGAIN.

The latest evidence in the Colonel Dwight insurance case is a wild story that the man is still alive, a corpse having been fixed up to look like him and buried, while the real Dwight is still alive somewhere, waiting to get his quarter of a million insurance.

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.

When it is desired to alter the authority of the Nation, as distinguished from that of the State, the question of protecting the health of the people, it is curious to see how the Southern Democracy become oblivious of all their theories. When the same power is proposed to be exerted in order to preserve the purity of elections among the people, their blood rises at once to fever heat. Which lends some force to the observation that circumstances alter cases.

DECEMBER DAY.

We had a pleasant celebration yesterday afternoon at the U. S. Custom House, for the celebration of December Day. The General informed us that arrangements have been completed at the Fort for observing December Day (Friday of this week), and the military will welcome and cheerfully co-operate with the citizens in any program that may be arranged.

THE MAJOR INQUIRY.

We understand that the Mayor intends to leave Leavenworth for a general holiday, and the occasion will doubtless be generally observed by the people of the city.

THE CHAMPION'S MISTAKE.

These figures that do not lie. They are taken from the official records in the City Collector's office, and they show that the business of Leavenworth, in the line referred to, is eight times as much as that of Atchison, while we have good evidence of the fact that just about the same difference exists in all other lines of business. We have no desire to do anything to injure Leavenworth, but it is a "right to know" town, but when it magnifies its own importance to such an extent that it begins to believe itself a bigger town than old Leavenworth it makes a mistake.

FACTS.

Atchison comes nearer equalling Leavenworth in the manufacture of beer than in any other article she manufactures. There are three breweries in each place, and the stamp accounts of the two towns for the year ending December 31st, 1878, were as follows:

Leavenworth, 19,698.25
Atchison, 2,469.25

Difference in favor of Leavenworth, $17,229.00

These figures are not guessed at. They are taken from the Collector's books. They are taken from the official records in the City Collector's office, and they show that the business of Leavenworth, in the line referred to, is eight times as much as that of Atchison, while we have good evidence of the fact that just about the same difference exists in all other lines of business. We have no desire to do anything to injure Leavenworth, but it is a "right to know" town, but when it magnifies its own importance to such an extent that it begins to believe itself a bigger town than old Leavenworth it makes a mistake.

A SAD PICTURE.

A correspondent writes that Mrs. Freeman, the mother of little Edith, who was killed by her father under a religious delusion, is dying of a broken heart. She is a "her bloodless lips, and her inability to eat or sleep, give full evidence of the anguish that is preying upon her. She weeps and moans day and night. She is confined in an upper cell, and has not, during the two weeks of her confinement, eaten the ordinary quantity of food. She has not taken a single meal. She tries to eat, believing it to make an effort to end her life, but when the fatal Sunday came around and the child that she loved did not rise as was promised, she gave way entirely. The pleasant expression which marked her features during the trial forebode her when that day passed, and gave place to sorrow which seems to be burning deep and deeper into her very soul. History has recorded no sadder picture of fanaticism than this.

IMPORTANT RELIGIOUS CRY.

The Great Roman Catholic Cathedral, in New York, which has been so many years in course of construction, and which is supposed to surpass in size and magnificence any other structure of the kind in the United States, is to be dedicated with imposing ceremonies today. Cardinal McCloskey will lead in the service, assisted by archbishops and bishops from New York and other States, and there will be a procession of two hundred priests, acolytes and chanters passing into the cathedral and down the center aisle, accompanied by appropriate music. The service will be held at 10 o'clock, and will last for one hour. The cathedral is 334 feet in length, the transept 140 feet, the width of the nave 96 feet, including the aisles, or 48 feet from pillar to pillar, giving 24 feet to each aisle; the height of the nave 108 feet and of the aisles 54 feet. The elevator is 138 feet in height. The cost of the building, the cost of the altar, and the cost of the interior spaces for ten more. The structure has 700 windows.

OUR MANUFACTURING INTERESTS.

Owing to the extra demand for yesterday morning's paper containing a comparison of the manufacturing interests of Leavenworth and Atchison in the line of cigars, we publish this article again this morning. We also give elsewhere in this issue the official figures, taken from the Collector's books, of the business of the two towns in the manufacture of beer. Beer and cigars are two of the articles which the Atchison Champion declared a few days ago were manufactured in greater quantities in Atchison than in Leavenworth.

The United States Collector's books show EXACTLY HOW MUCH IS DONE IN EACH TOWN, AND THEY SHOW THAT THE BUSINESS OF THE TWO TOWNS, IN THESE LINES, COMPARES AS FOLLOWS:

Leavenworth manufactures MORE THAN THREE TIMES as much beer as Atchison.

Leavenworth manufactures EIGHT TIMES AS MANY CIGARS AS ATCHISON.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

FACTS.

If the Atchison Champion wants to know how the business of that town compares with the business of Leavenworth, all it has to do is to consult the facts.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan.

Such an exhibition as that, backed by the official figures, must be very humiliating to Atchison, after so much "nauseating and disgusting blowing" as she has done.

DAMAGED BAGS.

The city of Rochester is being sued for $1,000 damages for the destruction, by order of the Board of Health, of rags supposed to be infected with the small pox.

THE DWIGHT CASE AGAIN.

The latest evidence in the Colonel Dwight insurance case is a wild story that the man is still alive, a corpse having been fixed up to look like him and buried, while the real Dwight is still alive somewhere, waiting to get his quarter of a million insurance.

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.

When it is desired to alter the authority of the Nation, as distinguished from that of the State, the question of protecting the health of the people, it is curious to see how the Southern Democracy become oblivious of all their theories. When the same power is proposed to be exerted in order to preserve the purity of elections among the people, their blood rises at once to fever heat. Which lends some force to the observation that circumstances alter cases.

DECEMBER DAY.

We had a pleasant celebration yesterday afternoon at the U. S. Custom House, for the celebration of December Day. The General informed us that arrangements have been completed at the Fort for observing December Day (Friday of this week), and the military will welcome and cheerfully co-operate with the citizens in any program that may be arranged.

THE MAJOR INQUIRY.

We understand that the Mayor intends to leave Leavenworth for a general holiday, and the occasion will doubtless be generally observed by the people of the city.

THE CHAMPION'S MISTAKE.

These figures that do not lie. They are taken from the official records in the City Collector's office, and they show that the business of Leavenworth, in the line referred to, is eight times as much as that of Atchison, while we have good evidence of the fact that just about the same difference exists in all other lines of business. We have no desire to do anything to injure Leavenworth, but it is a "right to know" town, but when it magnifies its own importance to such an extent that it begins to believe itself a bigger town than old Leavenworth it makes a mistake.

FACTS.

Atchison comes nearer equalling Leavenworth in the manufacture of beer than in any other article she manufactures. There are three breweries in each place, and the stamp accounts of the two towns for the year ending December 31st, 1878, were as follows:

Leavenworth, 19,698.25
Atchison, 2,469.25

Difference in favor of Leavenworth, $17,229.00

These figures are not guessed at. They are taken from the Collector's books. They are taken from the official records in the City Collector's office, and they show that the business of Leavenworth, in the line referred to, is eight times as much as that of Atchison, while we have good evidence of the fact that just about the same difference exists in all other lines of business. We have no desire to do anything to injure Leavenworth, but it is a "right to know" town, but when it magnifies its own importance to such an extent that it begins to believe itself a bigger town than old Leavenworth it makes a mistake.

A SAD PICTURE.

A correspondent writes that Mrs. Freeman, the mother of little Edith, who was killed by her father under a religious delusion, is dying of a broken heart. She is a "her bloodless lips, and her inability to eat or sleep, give full evidence of the anguish that is preying upon her. She weeps and moans day and night. She is confined in an upper cell, and has not, during the two weeks of her confinement, eaten the ordinary quantity of food. She has not taken a single meal. She tries to eat, believing it to make an effort to end her life, but when the fatal Sunday came around and the child that she loved did not rise as was promised, she gave way entirely. The pleasant expression which marked her features during the trial forebode her when that day passed, and gave place to sorrow which seems to be burning deep and deeper into her very soul. History has recorded no sadder picture of fanaticism than this.

IMPORTANT RELIGIOUS CRY.

The Great Roman Catholic Cathedral, in New York, which has been so many years in course of construction, and which is supposed to surpass in size and magnificence any other structure of the kind in the United States, is to be dedicated with imposing ceremonies today. Cardinal McCloskey will lead in the service, assisted by archbishops and bishops from New York and other States, and there will be a procession of two hundred priests, acolytes and chanters passing into the cathedral and down the center aisle, accompanied by appropriate music. The service will be held at 10 o'clock, and will last for one hour. The cathedral is 334 feet in length, the transept 140 feet, the width of the nave 96 feet, including the aisles, or 48 feet from pillar to pillar, giving 24 feet to each aisle; the height of the nave 108 feet and of the aisles 54 feet. The elevator is 138 feet in height. The cost of the building, the cost of the altar, and the cost of the interior spaces for ten more. The structure has 700 windows.

OUR MANUFACTURING INTERESTS.

Owing to the extra demand for yesterday morning's paper containing a comparison of the manufacturing interests of Leavenworth and Atchison in the line of cigars, we publish this article again this morning. We also give elsewhere in this issue the official figures, taken from the Collector's books, of the business of the two towns in the manufacture of beer. Beer and cigars are two of the articles which the Atchison Champion declared a few days ago were manufactured in greater quantities in Atchison than in Leavenworth.

The United States Collector's books show EXACTLY HOW MUCH IS DONE IN EACH TOWN, AND THEY SHOW THAT THE BUSINESS OF THE TWO TOWNS, IN THESE LINES, COMPARES AS FOLLOWS:

Leavenworth manufactures MORE THAN THREE TIMES as much beer as Atchison.

Leavenworth manufactures EIGHT TIMES AS MANY CIGARS AS ATCHISON.

When the figures have been taken from the books of parties themselves, Atchison "shows up" very well, making nearly one-third as much as Leavenworth; but in the matter of cigars she "shows up" so insignificantly that we were sorry to be obliged to publish the figures.

Why, the Collector's books show that the factory at the little town of Atchison, in the State of Missouri, manufactures more cigars than the factory in Atchison, Kan